2 Quick Start

2.1 Create your first Drum Sequence

Drum Sequences can be done in the "Drum Machine", or in one of the Grid Sequencer views. In this guide we use the Main Drum Machine to create a Sequence.

2.1.1 Show up the Drum Machine

Depending on the used App, navigating to the Drum Machine might be different.

2.1.1.1 G-Stomper Studio, G-Stomper Rhythm

Both, G-Stomper Studio and G-Stomper Rhythm, directly start with the "Drum Machine".

2.1.1.2 G-Stomper Producer

Press the "Drum" button in one of the Mixer Channels to show up the Drum Machine.

2.1.2 Load a Sound Set

First of all you have to load a Sound Set. Sound Sets can be loaded in use of the Main Menu. A Sound Set provides a Set of Sounds and parameter settings, optionally with an Effect/Master setup.

Depending on the used App, the Main Menu location and its content might be different.

2.1.2.1 G-Stomper Studio, G-Stomper Rhythm

Open the Main Menu, select the LOAD tab, and then choose "Factory Sound Set".

Then select one of the Sound Sets and confirm the following dialog with OK.

Load Sound Set: (Factory Sound Sets)	GET MORE		Load Sound Set
(Factory Sound Sets)			This Sound Set provides the following content. Please select the All None content you want to load.
TR-909	0		✓ Samples ✓ Sampler Preset Parameters (incl. Mixer)

Cancel			Cancel OK

Note: Click "Get More" to download more Sound Sets, Samples or Presets from your favourite App Store.

2.1.2.2 G-Stomper Producer

Open the Main Menu, select the LOAD tab, and then choose "Factory Sound Set".

That's it, hit the Play Button and listen to your first Drum Sequence.

As a matter of course, you can create sequences while the Sequencer is running.

Now select T02 and enable the Steps you want for the Hand Clap, and then continue with T03, T04, and so on.

2.2 Create your first VA-Beast Sequence

All Sequences for the VA-Beast Synthesizer are done on the "VA-Beast Poly Grid" view.

2.2.1 Show up the VA-Beast Poly Grid

Depending on the used App, navigating to the Poly Grid might be different.

2.2.1.1 G-Stomper Studio

Open the View Menu and choose "VA-Beast Poly Grid".

2.2.1.2 G-Stomper VA-Beast (standalone)

The standalone version of the VA-Beast Synthesizer directly starts with the "VA-Beast Poly Grid".

2.2.1.3 G-Stomper Producer

Use the arrows to navigate to the VA-Beast Tracks, and then press the "Grid" in one of the Mixer Channels to show up the Poly Grid.

2.2.2 Load a Synthesizer Preset

First of all you have to load a Synthesizer Preset. Synthesizer Presets can be loaded in use of the Track Menu of a particular VA-Beast Track (e.g., VT01).

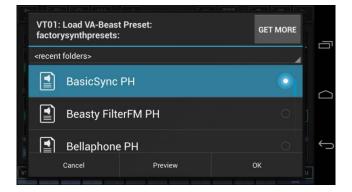

Depending on the used App, the Track Menu location and its content might be different.

2.2.2.1 G-Stomper Studio, G-Stomper VA-Beast (standalone)

Long click VT01 to open the Track Menu, select the LOAD tab, and then choose "VA Factory Preset".

Then choose The "Basic Sync PH" Preset.

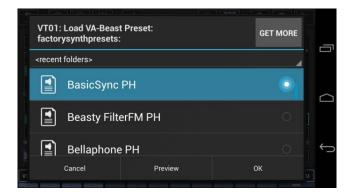

Note: Click "Get More" to download more Sound Sets, Samples or Presets from your favourite App Store.

2.2.2.2 G-Stomper Producer

Open the Track Menu in the sidebar, select the LOAD tab, and then choose "VA Factory Preset".

Then choose The "Basic Sync PH" Preset.

Note: Click "Get More" to download more Sound Sets, Samples or Presets from your favourite App Store.

2.2.2.3 Shortcut to load a Preset

Likewise (in all apps that come with the VA-Beast Synthesizer), you can also simply click the preset display in the VA-Beast Synthesizer main view to load a preset.

2.2.4.1 G-Stomper Studio, G-Stomper VA-Beast (stanalone)

In G-Stomper Studio and G-Stomper VA-Beast (standalone), the Track Pads have in most cases two main actions/functions, a short click and a long click function.

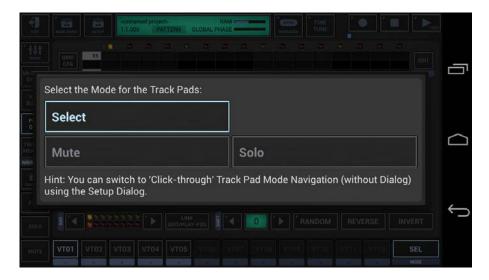

By default you're in Select/Menu Mode:

Short click a Track Pad : Select the Track Long click a Track Pad : Open its Track Menu.

2.2.4.2 G-Stomper Producer

In G-Stomper Producer, the Track Pads have one short click action.

By default you're in Select Mode

Short click Track Pad : Select the Track

2.2.5 Create a Sequence

In the middle of the screen is the Sequencer grid. The grid is always related to the selected Track

Select Track VT01 by clicking the VT01 Button. Then click the grid cells to toggle the Steps ON/OFF. The VA-Beast Poly Grid is a polyphonic Step Sequencer; therefore you can enable multiple notes per Step.
